Federal Housing Finance Board

RE: Affordable Housing

Dear Sirs:

It is our understanding that the Federal Housing Finance Board is proposing new rules that would affect programs that are now available for affordable housing. Our community is concerned about affordable housing opportunities for our citizens. Housing costs seem to rise on a regular basis which limits the number of persons who can afford proper housing.

Any rules that shrink the available sources for funding hurts our citizens and our community. The housing industry provides not just homes for our citizens but jobs for our community. We would ask that you consider the impact of any rule changes and let your decision making be driven by creating more affordable housing opportunities not fewer.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely

Edward J. Poppe, Director
Planning & Development
